9 “sharp” questions for your business!

Is there “hidden” turnover in your company?	Does your incentive scheme encourage the right behaviour?	Do you discuss efficiency improvements with your unions?
Customer X wants Invoicing on the 7th of the month, Customer Y on the 11th. Is your data ready?	Does your staff comply with the Working Time Directives?	Are the lean processes in your company efficient?
Do you know what your employees are doing?	Can your company comply to new or revised reporting requirements?	How would an influenza epidemic affect your production plan?

Registration of time & attendance, project time or material consumption can be a great challenge for companies with many mobile employees. Reporting from service technicians, construction workers or consultants can be a bottleneck when it comes to obtaining accurate and up-to-the-minute information – both for resource planning and stock management, not least to form the basis for correct invoicing. For handling these challenges, ProMark is the ideal solution!

“The challenge was to get 460 employees with different attendance profiles and an order system for fresh food with very short delivery terms to interact with optimal results.”
