Would you like to know how the company is doing? Ask HR!

HR provides valuable insight to management. This has emerged from personal interviews with HR people in six different companies. Information relating to absence, wage development and staff turnover are at the top of the list among the most important reporting types.

See an overview of the most frequent reporting types from HR which make a difference for management and read about the interviewees' personal experience with management reporting.

Feedback makes us improve!

Customer satisfaction and loyalty are important focus areas for us. Therefore, we continuously measure how our customers experience the collaboration with Mark Information, so we can improve our service and offerings – and thus become an even better partner.

Increased transparency and self-service

Some of our customers have expressed a desire for greater transparency in cooperation with Mark Information. Therefore, we are presently working on enabling all customers to create and view the status of ongoing cases at our customer site. We expect to launch the new, improved customer site before summer.

In addition, we plan to offer self-service in other relevant areas later on.
